My Wealth

Clear, affordable guidance for savers who are not yet in Premium.

RBI Innovation School 2026 · Mass-Affluent Wealth Advice · 5-minute pitch

< 1%

Nearly half of Hungarian term deposits earn under 1%.

Picture €280,000 in cash: €2,800 a year. At an example 3–4% on €150,000, that is roughly €3,000–4,500 more. Instead he asks his nephew and ChatGPT. Not us.

Source: MNB Savings Report 2026 (all Hungarian savers, mostly balances under HUF 10m). €280,000 = prototype demo customer, example only.

Below Premium, guidance feels like a sales push.

Unclear

"It wasn't clear." (C1)

Costly

Closed his investment account: "it costs a lot more". (C1)

On our terms

Product push, not life questions. Decisions move elsewhere.

What customers told us

1

Start from my life

Not from your products.

2

I choose the contact

No cold calls. App or branch.

3

Show me the price

Clear and fair.

First signal: 2 experts, 2 street interviews, 1 internal study. Not proof.

My Wealth

A new section in the app they already trust, unlocked at the mass-affluent threshold.

See

All your money and what it costs

Plan

Life Profile: goals, time, risk comfort

Learn

2-minute lessons, Playground

Ask

AI explains. A banker advises.

Prototype: four taps

1

My Wealth

Everything in one place

2

Wealth Insights

"€280,000 in cash at ~1%": four clear picks

3

AI assistant

"Why cash?" Explains, never recommends

4

Talk to an Adviser

Banker already sees your goal

After test 1: notifications added and insights shortened, the same day. All amounts are demo data.

Confidence for the customer. The relationship stays with us.

€200k

6-month pilot, reuses app, video advice, advisory tool

€180k

yearly benefit, expected case

€20.5k

kept or added per engaged customer for a full build to pay off

Illustrative assumptions from our business case, not RBI data. The pilot measures the real numbers.

What we need from you

1

A sponsor

at RBHU for the pilot

2

Early Compliance check

AI and Life Profile (MiFID II, AI Act, GDPR)

3

10 customers

to test with

Let's help customers put their savings to work, with us.